

Montully's Son, I have been told had an outstanding temperament. I have seen pictures of him, which showed that of a Connemara pony who stood with great bone and grand conformation.

His offspring have passed on these characteristics to their offspring alike. The stamp if you will, of Montully's Son breeding can be seen in the now many generations that are spread across our United States of America. The ponies by Montully's Son and the generations that have followed, are making names that are known far beyond their back yard. Proudly displaying the breed characteristics and those of the Sire, Montully's Son, they are being sought after and loved by many.

Though many ponies of the first generation were not shown, they carried the characteristics of Montully's Son that they passed onto the generations to follow. The offspring of these three ponies, who are of the first generation, have proven an outstanding positive impact on the future generations. The temperament, bone, conformation and sheer look passed down from pony to pony.

Tullymor's Lizzie Maclynch (Montully's Son x Tre Awain Silaech)

Tullymor's April Fool (Montully's Son x Ailte Mhuire)

Tullymor's Mountain Shadow (Montully's Son x Ailte Mhuire)

The second generation Montully's Son ponies make up a large number spread around the United States of America and beyond.

Balmullos Beacon (Aladdin x Tullymor's April Fool)

2012 ACPS An Tostal Hall of Fame Recipient for life time achievements of performance as Connemara stallion. A proven competitor in dressage and eventing. A pony with excellent temperament and willingness who's offspring can be found competing all over the United States of America.

Morning Glorys Ilyushin (Fiddlers Glory Boy x Tullymor's Lizzie Maclynch)

Now standing in Canada, this stallion has proven himself to be a great sport-pony and sire of great sport-ponies and sport-horses alike. He is ACPS approved, a multiple champion In-hand; shown under saddle and driving. He was also 2005 AWS pony of the Year.

Tullymor's Mountain Sun (Tullymor's Mountain Shadow x Tullymor's Kiss of Sun)

In 2011 at just under 8 years old He started his under-saddle training, He showed for those six months and was Inspected and approved by ACPS. Sun took every new thing in stride. He shared his loving nature and fast learning with all who met him during that six months. He brought home many awards and made many new to Connemara pony friends along the way. He has passed on the loving nature, grand movement and very good bone to all of his offspring.

The sheer number of outstanding ponies, that carry Montully's Son's bloodlines, is the greatest proof that Montully's Son has made an outstanding impact on the ponies of the American Connemara Pony Society.

Third generation ponies, Searah's Calum & Searah's Gold Rush are two of many purebred and part Connemara In-hand Champions By Tullymor's Mountain Thunder (by Tullymor's Flying Ace {Montully'sSon x Pegasus} x Kahula).
